EDF Zingy Pattern

I'm normally quite headstrong when it comes to advertising gimmicks but I've fallen for Zingy in a big way, he has excellent music taste and any ad company who parodies 'The Big Lebowski' gets a thumbs up from me.

*You only need <50g DK yarn with a 2.75mm (2.5mm or 3mm will do) hook.
You'll need: some white felt, a couple of small black buttons, glue, needle and black/clear thread for the eyes; some black yarn and yarn needle for the nose; and some toy stuffing.*

Feel free to share this pattern, however please do not alter it or remove credits. If you have any questions or find any errors, please get in touch via my blog.

Revision 1.0, July 2012.

Stuff.

Keep decreasing until you've closed the hole and fasten off.

Face

Grab a piece of white felt, fold it and use a coin as a template to draw around. A 2p piece (or a £2 coin if you're flash) is a good size.

Cut it out and you'll have the eye shape.

Glue the felt to Zingy's face and stitch on two black buttons. Buttons are always cuter but you could of course use black felt if you don't have the right sized buttons.

Use some black yarn to embroider Zingy's nose and finish off his anti-depressant little face.

Now play some Human League and hang out.
